

CHECKLIST – Apps

To Do	Explanation/Tips	Check
Monash Study	Monash University has developed their own app which makes studying simple and organised. You can see your own class and assessment schedule in the app and even sync it with your Google Calendar so that you won't miss any important dates. The map feature allows you to find your classrooms easily – especially helpful for the first few weeks.
PTV App	The app Public Transport Victoria (PTV) definitely makes your travels easier. You can plan your journey in advance, get real-time information and top up your Myki card.
Uber Carshare	At some point you will probably like to rent a car to explore Melbourne's surroundings (remember to apply for an international driver's before travelling to Australia). With Uber Carshare , you can search for cars online that are close to your location and book them by hour or day(s). All rides include a damage and loss cover, and you can rent a car under the age of 25. The only downside: In addition to the daily rate, you will be charged between $0,33 to $0,94 per kilometre. This can add up, especially when driving long distances (e.g. Great Ocean Road). Thus, check the price per kilometre in advance.
Doordash / Ubereats	The Australian alternatives to Lieferando and Wolt .
Uber	Uber is a global leader for ride-sharing and is very popular in Australia. Especially at night, it is the fastest, cheapest and often safest option to get from A to B.
Booking.com	Booking.com is a great platform to book hostels/hotels for your further travels. It is advisable to create your own profile since you can earn points which will active exclusive offers. They also have better cancellation policies than Hostelworld , which gives you a bit more freedom when it comes to trip changes.
Surfline	When you are into surfing, Surfline is a great app to check surf conditions and discover new surf locations.
Polarsteps	Polarsteps is an online travel diary and tracker that you can share with your friends and family. You can add photos, videos and daily notes of your travel adventures and if allowed, track your entire trip to see your exact route and ultimate kilometres.
